

I would like to urge NHTSA to keep in mind diesel truck owners (avg weight 7000 lbs+) who use their vehicles for camping and towing. The current trend in diesel engines is toward more power. Any loss of power or reversal of this trend would result in many having to give up their RV lifestyle. The diesel trucks of 5-7 years ago were significantly underpowered. Thank you for your consideration.